Mrs. Rupard Passes Away.

Mrs. Charles Rupard died Sunday morning at her home at Pilot View, after an illness of scrofula and tubercular trouble. She was 39 years old and a beloved young woman. Her husband and three children, Dallas aged 15, Fannie Lou aged 10 and Nancy Mae Rupard, aged 5 years, survive.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Jackson, of Vaughn's Mills, a brother, I. G. Jackson, editor of the Danville Messenger, and a sister, Mrs. Asa Barnett, of Spout Springs, also survive.

Mrs. Rupard was Miss Betsy Jackson before her marriage. She was a double first cousin of Dan, Nathan and Butler Jackson and had many other relatives in this county. She had been ill since Christmas.

The funeral services were conducted at the grave in the Rupard burying-ground, between Kiddville and Schollsville, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock, by Elder J. W. Harding.—Winchester Democrat, May 28.

To Take Advantage of New Law

At the special session of the Legislature a new law was passed permitting counties to vote an extra tax of 20 cents on the hundred dollars, for road purposes.

Hancock county is the first in the State to take advantage of the new law, having called a vote on this proposition for June 16th. The increased taxes are for only a period of ten years.

Death of W. P. Thacker.

Mr. Wesley P. Thacker, aged 69 years, died Friday at the home of his son, W. O. Thacker, at Mt. Sterling, from Cancer of the stomach.

Mr. Thacker was a citizen of Estill county; his wife was a Miss Webb of Lee county, and he was the father of W. D. Thacker, who moved last spring from this city to Levee, where he now resides.

Sent to Asylum.

Bert Frazier was tried last week on a charge of lunacy, and was taken Saturday to the asylum at Lexington. His mind failed him at Middletown, Ohio, about two weeks when he created considerable disturbance in the neighborhood where he lived. While in this condition some one knocked him in the head with a block of coal, and he was then arrested.

Decoration Day

Decoration Day yesterday was very fittingly observed in Clay City and Powell county generally. On this occasion appropriate services were held at Powell's Valley church at 2:30 p. m. While the day was a legal holiday it was observed as such only by the bank and postoffice in Clay City.

Another Sale Advertised

The Fidelity & Columbia Trust Company of Louisville, Receiver for Day Lumber & Coal Company, is advertising the sale of real estate, mill property, etc., at Jackson, Beattyville and Campton Junction, for June 25, 26 and 27.

Repair Work on Road

The construction work on the Hardwick's Creek road began Monday of last week, was discontinued the day following, and the machinery put to repair work all along the road. The extreme uneven condition of the road made this advisable. Construction work will be resumed where left off, we are informed, soon as the repair work on all the road is finished.

The men at the head of this work are very capable and the Times does hope to see their efforts crowned with success in this commendable undertaking, and success will be coming if everyone interested in this road will do their duty. The work is under the sole control of Messrs. J. M. Kennon, S. G. Baker, T. J. Wright and Frank B. Russell, Directors.

Elder E. H. Reynolds Dies.

Elder E. H. Reynolds died in Winchester Sunday morning from infirmities of age, being 80 years old.

Mr. Reynolds had been a minister of the Christian Church for fifty-seven years. He had served the Clay City Christian church as pastor, and was most favorably known and loved by many Powell county people. He was related to the Kennon family of this county, and spent several days here with them about two weeks ago fishing.

What's Taking us Away

The first four months of 1917 showed 11,866 deaths in Kentucky. Of these, pneumonia carried away more than any other disease, 1,639 altogether, or 206 out of each thousand. A little more than one-fifth of all deaths, therefore, was from pneumonia, a disease of the lungs.

Tuberculosis was the next most destructive, claiming 1512 deaths or nearly another one-fifth.

Measles took away 529; syphilis, 391, and cancer 366. Violence got 449.

Heavy Rains Bring Tide.

Heavy rains the first of the week brought a tide in the river which spread out over the low bottoms. Most of these bottoms had been planted in corn, but it is contended that the overflow will not injure the young corn since it did not stand long enough on it to affect it.

Moving to Lexington.

Judge Luther Loving and family are moving this week to Lexington where the Judge holds an important position with Turkey Foot Lumber Company. The Judge and family are of our very best citizens and it is with regrets that we see them leave Clay City.

Crops Cut Short

The cool weather and the drought in many places have held back the growth of meadows and particularly has the blue-grass seed crop been cut short. It is feared that the good rains of this week will be unable to bring out meadows to a full crop of hay.

Delay in Road Work.

Work on the new Lulbegrud road is at a standstill, the company having the contract work being unable to get teams to proceed with the work. Mr. Hardin, the foreman of the job, is at his home in Campbellsville, but will return in a few days and make some arrangements for the work to proceed.

Teamsters are demanding five dollars per day for their work since all kinds of feed has advanced to such prices, and it does look like they can work for no less. They are now getting five dollars per day for hauling to the oil fields. The contractors claim that they regulated their bid after figuring the cost of teams not to exceed four dollars per day, and that they cannot afford to pay more at the price they are to get for the work. It is now very doubtful if they can get teams at even five dollars per day. In the face of these conditions, it seems that the contractors will have to buy up their own teams and put them on the job. The company prefers to hold the work for home teams, but they are up a tree. They have to do the work and they cannot get home teams. They are in this way forced to do the inevitable.

Facts That Must Be Faced.

1. The British drink trade has destroyed during the war sufficient food to have supplied the entire British army during that time.

2. If Great Britain had prohibited drink in August, 1914, she would today have had a surplus of food equal to three months' supply, instead of being faced by near-famine.

3. The British drink trade has during the war wasted shipping space equivalent to one trip of 5,400,000 tons.

4. The British drink trade has during the war wasted labor equivalent to the idleness for 100 days of the entire United Kingdom.

5. The British drink trade has during war resulted in a money wasted equivalent to the last gigantic British loan of $5,000,000,000.

Lost millions, lost food, lost shipping space, lost men!

The vital question of the hour: Is the United States going to allow drink to do the same thing to us?

Winchester Court

While there were a large number of cattle on the Winchester market Monday, the trading was only fair and the market made a fair average. A number of sales were made at the pens at the Hamilton Stock Yards where cows ranged in price from 5½ to 7½ cents, steers 7 to 9½ cents, bulls, 9 cents and calves, 7½ to 9½ cents.—Winchester Democrat.

Disastrous Storm

Reports from all parts of the State indicate that seventy persons were killed in the storm Sunday night, and that hundreds were injured, with very heavy property loss. Illinois, Indiana and other States suffered even more severely.

THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1917.

The Times is pleased to see some of the counties of the State preparing to vote a 20 cent tax on themselves to build roads, instead of voting large bonds, which carries a provision for an additional 20 cents tax. The tax is much better in that it allows all the tax money to be spent for the roads instead of three-fourths of it being spent for interest on the bonds sold to build roads. And, further, the State aid can then be put into roads along with the county funds.

Taking Powell for an example, the $40,000 in bonds voted will require $2,000 per year to pay the interest on these bonds, while if no bonds were outstanding the full $2,000 could be placed against $2,000 from the State and thereby the county get four thousand dollars worth of roads per year, instead of paying the interest that does us no good. For five years Powell will collect, after Sheriff's fee for collection is taken out, about $2,000 in road bond taxes. Two thousand of this will go to pay interest while the $600 will go to pay on bonds spent for roads already built.

Our county should certainly make a change for the tax system by all means. The Times would be pleased to champion such a movement.

We see where Estill county is to vote August 4th on the proposition to issue $150,000 road bonds. If the vote carries, we do hope to see our native county get better results than we have been able to get in Powell. It is not the paying of the tax that hurts, but it's the lack of getting the roads after all our road fund for years to come, has been spent. Besides, it is much better to vote a tax under the new law and use the tax to build roads, instead of collecting just as much and paying three dollars of it for interest on a debt to every one dollar paid on the debt. This is the way the way the bond proposition works.

Now that manufacturers persist in having their high price of more than six cents apiece for fruit cans, it seems that no effort will be made to force these manufacturers to furnish them at a fair price to the farmers and small canneries, but, on the other hand, the farmers are urged to dry their apples, their sweet potatoes, their pumpkins, their blackberries, corn, etc. Of course the large manufacturers must hold their high profits up to the limit, even though we must eat old tough dried products instead of the sweet juicy canned goods we are used to.

While the Courier Journal, the whiskey people's champion, is all the time boosting for liquor, it is fair enough to report, in its news columns, that "So and so was drunk when he killed his wife," or that "heavy drinking" caused the rash act of the suicide. The Courier is for liquor because it seems that good old journal is unable to distinguish the difference between patriotism and alcoholism. They certainly must look a great deal alike to the Colonel, anyway.

Dr. Wiley, the pure food expert, recently said that American distillers use enough grain every year to feed one eighth of the American population. A startling fact, but what has this Government done to stop this waste, which waste, when made into liquor, is costing us large dollars in cash, starvation and murder in drinking homes, and the destruction of our young manhood, disqualifying them for business or social life and, in the country's crisis, unfitting them for military duties. This compels the Government to leave them at home to idle away time and spend for liquor any money they may earn or dishonestly come into possession of; while the sober young men must be taken from industry and business and placed on the battlefield.

This is a very serious question which, so far, the Government has failed to give serious consideration.

Ardent liquor people are claiming that some dry folks in wet towns have cold feet and hide their light under a bushel. Not so with the wets, they usually show their colors even to the end of their noses.

LIVER DIDN'T ACT - DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak. I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon rectified with a few doses of Black-Draught." Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member, of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c. a package—One cent a dose. "Clean Up the Bowels and Keep Them Clean"

There are many remedies to be had for constipation, but the difficulty is to procure one that acts without violence. A remedy that does not perform by force what should be accomplished by persuasion is Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets. After using them, Mr. N. A. Woodell, 315 Washington St., Waco, Tex., says:

"Almost all my life I have been troubled with constipation, and have tried many remedies, all of which seemed to cause pain without giving much relief. I finally tried Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and found them excellent. Their action is pleasant and mild, and their chocolate taste makes them easy to take. I am more than glad to recommend them."

"Clean up the bowels and keep them clean" is the advice of all physicians, because they realize the danger resulting from habitual constipation. Do not delay too long, but begin proper curative measures.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are a new remedy for this old complaint, and a great improvement over the cathartics you have been using in the past. They taste like candy and work like a charm. A trial will convince you.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory after trial, return the box to your druggist and he will return your money. 12 MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Everybody Should Buy a Bond (Lexington Leader).

The meeting of bankers and business men generally which was held in Lexington today in the interest of the Liberty bond issue ought to stimulate the sale of these government securities throughout the territory represented by the visitors.

The Liberty bonds will be issued by the government to raise money to defray the immediate expenses of the war with Germany and to help the Allies in the gigantic fight which they are now making to withstand the assaults of the German armies.

These bonds will pay three and a half per cent. interest and can be converted into cash on a moment's notice by any holder who finds that he cannot keep them. They are not subject to taxation of any nature. Anybody who can save a few dollars a month can buy one of these bonds. The banks will lend money on them and the money borrowed can be paid off in installments. The interest on the bond will carry the loan. The American people who do not want to see their sons and brothers go to war in Europe should bear in mind that it is better to send money than it is to send men to the battlefields of Germany and France.

Every dollar's worth of supplies that the United States contributes to the cause of the Allies will help to keep a proportionate number of soldiers at home.

The United States must either send millions of men to Europe to die in the trenches or on the open ground, or lend money to the Allies to help to fight the war with their own men. Which do we prefer?

As a business investment the Liberty loan is of extraordinary value. The seven billions of dollars which the government wants to raise will be paid to American farmers and American wage earners. Nearly every nickel of it will be spent in the United States. It will find its way into all of the channels of trade and everybody will get his share.

Every citizen owes a patriotic duty to his country. It can be manifested in many ways. Some can fight and some can nurse, and others can grow crops and make would be a fine thing for all the Sunday Schools of Powell to get together for a picnic of this kind, and we hope every school will respond at once. To get advantage of this rate we must assure the railroad that $100 worth of tickets are sold. Please bring this up before all your schools, whoever reads this, and come and join us. In a great Sunday School picnic by the cooling waters in the leafy wood, and under the shadow of the Natural Bridge.

There will be a meeting of the farmers and citizens of Powell at the Court house on Saturday afternoon, June 9th, to discuss important things that concern our county. Mr. Harrison desires that every citizen of the county who possibly can, be present. It is a great thing for people to get together and plan how they might improve their county, have better roads, better school houses, how to fertilize the soil, how to raise good stock, and many other things of interest. Mr. Harrison and the writer feel that there is not a common interest in our town and county and that there is no co-operation whatever among her citizens. So these meetings are called to see if our people really desire better things for town and county.

The writer is sending to everyone he thinks should be interested, a letter asking for money to complete our county.
